The Department of Family and Community Medicine (DFCM) in the Temerty Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto is inviting applications for the position of Associate Program Director, Academic Fellowship and Graduate Studies (AFGS) Program. This is a five-year term appointment funded for approximately two half days per week with a start date of October 1, 2021.

AFGS programs include the following: Master’s in Public Health (MPH-FCM), Master of Science Community Health in Family and Community Medicine (MScCH-FCM), Master of Science Community Health in Health Practitioner Teacher Education (MScCH-HPTE), Academic Fellowship, Medical Education Fellowship and Certificate programs. Over the past 25 years we have provided training for over 1,000 international and domestic students.

The AFGS Associate Program Director (APD) will assist the AFGS Program Director (PD) in the leadership, coordination, evaluation, and advancement of all aspects of the AFGS Program at the University of Toronto. The APD will have primary responsibility for oversight and program activities of the Master of Science Community Health in Health Practitioner Teacher Education (MScCH-HPTE), Medical Education Fellowship (MEF) and Clinical Teacher Certificate (CTC) programs.

The ideal candidate will have certification with the College of Family Physicians of Canada and possess excellent leadership, communication, organizational and team building skills, a proven ability to lead and work well with others, and a strong commitment to the development of students and faculty. The candidate will be aware of present and future health system trends and needs and possess knowledge of current best practices in graduate training and faculty development. They will present a strong vision and contribute to building innovative graduate education programs that will best prepare our graduates for their current and future roles in health professions education.

The candidate will also demonstrate interest in engaging in scholarly activities relating to graduate education, have relevant experience as both a clinician and an educator, have a graduate degree or equivalent and have attained a stature eligible for appointment at the University of Toronto at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor.

For further information and the full job description please contact Dr. Abbas Ghavam-Rassoul (a.ghavam.rassoul@utoronto.ca). Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, CV and list of three potential references to Dr. Risa Freeman, Vice-Chair, Education (risa@freeman.md). The closing date for applications is August 6, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply. However, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America and other equity-seeking groups.
America, persons with disabilities, 2SLGBTQIA+ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.