

FHO Locum Family Physician - Maternity Leave Coverage

At the Albany Medical Clinic, located near Broadview subway station, we provide comprehensive medical care to the Toronto community at our centrally located full service facility, which includes numerous ancillary services like diagnostic imaging and on-site specialists.

This locum opportunity is to cover a FHO family practice with a current patient roster of approximately 750 patients during a maternity leave. The locum would be expected to provide coverage for 2 days per week for a period of 6 months from July-December 2024. Compensation at $500 per half day.
